High quality of many rice varieties

EURICOM HELLAS was established in February 1998 in Halastra and their facilities are among the largest in Europe, with an annual capacity which exceeds the Greek domestic production.

Specifically, EURICOM HELLAS is specialized in whitening processing and packaging of rice. The industrial unit is fully automated with the most modern machinery processing and quality control. Its production capacity is 500 tons per day.

Every year at the end of September we begin to collect the new crop by carefully examining a plethora of samples of all rice varieties grown in Greece, until we reach the ones that meet the quality standards and give the desired result. Creating long-term partnerships with the producers developed by Euricom Hellas ensures the required quality characteristics and origin of the raw material.

To ensure the quality of products, we follow an integrated quality control system in accordance with international standards. Our specialized staff monitors production at all stages, while checking the produced items on a daily basis. The aim of rigorous standards and strict controls is to ensure the health and safety of the consumer as well as the quality of the taste.
